EXHIBITION INFORMATION

The European Conference on X-Ray Spectrometry EXRS 2006 follows the biennial conference series started in Göteborg (1984, 1986) and continued in Vienna, Antwerp, Myconos, Budapest, Lisbon, Bologna, Krakow, Berlin and the last one, in 2004 in Alghero.

In 2006 the International Conference will take place in Paris, France, where the Conference Organisers aim to bring together 300 to 400 participants: scientists of basic and applied research and representatives of industry over a period of five days from June 19th to June 23rd, 2006. The conference will be held in the "Cité Internationale Universitaire" in Paris with ample space and logistics support. Complementary information can be found on the website: <http://www.ciup.fr/>

The conference announcement has been sent to the regular EXRS community which corresponds to a mailing list of more than 2 000 addresses and we already got a large positive feedback.

Considering the continuous impact of new technologies and state-of-the-art instrumentation into the development of X-ray optics and microscopy, EXRS2006 will constitute an excellent platform for your company. Therefore we would like to welcome you to make the most of this gathering of high ranking representatives in this rapidly increasing field of science to introduce new products and developments to facilitate the decision-making process for new and upgraded experimental equipment.

Different sponsoring possibilities are offered for advertising at the EXRS2006 conference :

1/ A three days technological exhibition is planned during this conference, June 19Th to 21st, 2006. The exhibition plan is included in the annex. Three options are available:
